These financial statements are the responsibility of the management of the Foundation. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. ## Notes to Financial Statements December 31, 2003 and 2002

NOTE A - THE FOUNDATION AND ITS SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

[1] The Foundation:

The United States-Japan Foundation (the "Foundation") is a private foundation organized in 1980 for the purpose of promoting understanding and cooperation between the peoples and institutions of the United States and Japan.

[2] Federal excise taxes:

The Foundation qualifies as a tax-exempt charitable organization under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code (the "Code") and, accordingly, is not subject to federal income taxes. However, the Foundation is subject to an excise tax, not to exceed 2% on net investment income, including realized gains, as defined in the Code. In addition, the Foundation must make certain minimum distributions in an amount equal to 5% of the average fair value of its assets held during the year. The required distributions for the years ended December 31, 2003 and 2002 were approximately $3,580,000 and $3,930,000, respectively. At December 31, 2003, the Foundation has excess distribution carryforwards of approximately $6,300,000 expiring in 2004 through 2008.

[3] Accrual basis of accounting:

The financial statements of the Foundation have been prepared using the accrual basis of accounting.

[4] Net assets:

The Foundation's net assets, which are unrestricted, represent resources available for current operations as there are no donor restrictions on the use of these assets.

[5] Fair value of financial instruments:

Financial instruments are composed of cash and other assets, the carrying values of which approximate their fair values. Similarly, the reported amounts of liabilities are estimated to approximate their fair value. Investments are reported at their fair market values.

[6] Use of estimates:

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, income and expenses. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

[7] Contributions:

Proceeds from contributions are recorded as revenue upon receipt of cash or unconditional pledges. Proceeds from contributions are considered available for unrestricted use unless specifically restricted by the donor.

Notes to Financial Statements December 31, 2003 and 2002

NOTE B - INVESTMENTS

- [1] Investments are reported at their aggregate fair values, and investment transactions are recorded as of the trade dates.

Management records its investments in limited partnerships at their estimated fair values, based upon financial statements provided by the partnerships' general partners.

Any investments denominated in foreign currencies are translated at the closing rate of exchange at the end of the reporting period. Transactions during the year, including purchases and sales and income and expenses, are translated at the rate of exchange prevailing on the dates of the transactions.

Realized and unrealized gains or losses on investments are determined by the comparison of specific costs of acquisition to the proceeds at the time of disposal and the market values at the balance-sheet date, respectively. Realized and unrealized gains or losses include the effects of currency translation with respect to foreign security transactions. Realized losses were $5,316,503 and $6,271,806 for the years ended December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively. Unrealized gains (losses) were $16,974,014 and $(6,979,759) for the years ended December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively.

A forward exchange currency contract is a commitment to purchase or sell a foreign currency at a future date, at a negotiated rate. The gain or loss arising from the difference between the original contracts and the closing of such contracts is included in the net realized losses on investments. The net realized losses on forward exchange currency contracts were $3,518 and $22,670 for the years ended December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively.

- [2] At each year-end, the cost and fair value of the Foundation's investments were as follows:

	December 31,
	2003		2002
	Fair Value	Cost	Fair Value	Cost

Approximately 19 percent and 37 percent of the Foundation's marketable securities were held by highly capitalized financial institutions, during the years ending December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively.

Investments valued by the general partner of limited partnerships relating to not-readily-marketable securities aggregated approximately $350,000 and $950,000 at December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively.

In connection with investment activity, the Foundation selects various investment vehicles, including limited partnerships.
